Church at an Union Meeting of the Baptist, Methodist and Presbyterian Congregations of Panama April 30, 1865 Cease ye from man whose breath is in his nostrils. - [Isaiah 2: 22. The joy of our heart is ceased; our dance is turned into mourning. - Lam. 5: 15. It is an ancient maxim that he has lived a day too long, who has survived by a single day, his country s ruin. And this sentiment is as just as it is ancient, for what generous mind could wish to linger upon the scene when all that is august and noble, all that is virtuous or good, or glorious in the institutions and prospects of his native laud had vanished forever. The force of this sentiment is not weakened by the lapse of time. It is felt as deeply to-day, and it glows as brightly among us who dwell in these western climes, as when it throbbed in the veins of the gallant Greek or the haughty and valiant Roman, prompting them to those deeds of civic skill and martial prowess which have tilled the world with the fame of their temples and the glory of their arts and arms. It is not the design nor is it the effect of Christianity to diminish the force or ardor of this sentiment. While it points us away indeed from all transitory scenes, and reveals to us a better and more enduring country, and while it bids us fix our affections and place our treasures only there, it...
