Marketing research represents a formal analysis of quantitative and qualitative demand, access and recognition of class of products or services, providing an external perspective of the business and industry. But, marketing research is to be appreciated as part of social science whereby the 'ceteris paribus' has its place due to complexity of marketing phenomena. On the other hand, research is crucial because it drives innovation and innovation is one way how the enterprise can gain leadership and much bargaining power. Thus, companies need to gather information concerning scientific research on products, markets and technology and this information can be generated either internally by Research and Development or by following research done elsewhere in the areas concerning the firm's business. 16 pp. Deutsch.
